GENERAL REMARKS

Mrs Brown has Grade III well up to standard. Her energy and sustained enthusiasm are amazing. No detail is ignored in preparation correction and recording. The boys have great respect for her. She takes them for Christian Doctrine also and their knowledge was nearly perfect. Grade IV is in a fair condition - they are a little noisy and restless. The young Brother is in his first mission. He prepares and corrects well. His teaching may lack animation and brightness. Grades V, VI are heavy classes. Discipline is not easy. Both have an element of uninterested and troublesome boys. Work-books were not impressive. A great deal of slovenly work and waste of paper remain unchecked. Frequent admonitions are necessary on these points. Reading is good throughout. Composition - written constructive expression - is the weakest. A weekly composition does not suffice. The secret of writing is regular and frequent practice. Too many boys need to be corrected for careless spelling and wrong answering. The term 'Sir' should be used rather than Brother - too long and limited in its appropriateness. Boys' appearance might be better. Too many with socks about ankles. Public examination results continue to be of high quality.
