GENERAL REMARKS

The first three classes are in a very satisfactory condition. It was a pleasure to examine them. They are bright, lively boys interested in their work and gladly co-operating with their teachers. The spirit and atmosphere of each room approached the ideal, with Grade IV perhaps best. All three teachers are able successfully to steer that difficult middle course between excessive freedom on one hand and repression on the other. The marks given above indicate the quality of the answering in the tests given. Most pleasing of all was the ready oral response in all classes and the facility with which they expressed themselves. The written composition was quite good – and also the imaginative effort in art. Boys put forth their best effort to make a subject grip their fancy. Accuracy in figures was a little weak in some instances – but no fault could be found with the will to grapple with appropriate problems. Reading lessons have much to offer beyond mere reading. The foundations of a critical approach can be laid with careful questions. Class books need checking especially in VI. Seating is bad in this class too – 11 boys in desks for 5 6

Sound instruction is given in C. D. Courses are wide and practical. Exam results continue to be of high quality. A St. de V. Society flourishes.
